

Affordable Housing and Community Development

Proudly Advocating for Affordable Housing throughout the Pacific Northwest

Ball Janik LLP represents affordable housing developers and owners in all aspects of the acquisition, disposition, financing, development, construction, and operation of affordable housing projects. We represent public, private, and non-profit affordable housing developers and operators. The firm utilizes our deep experience in real estate, land use, public-private partnerships, finance, construction, insurance recovery, and construction defect litigation, to assist our clients with their asset development and management objectives in ways that are practical, streamlined, and tailored to the client's business needs.

Ball Janik LLP's attorneys are active participants in the affordable housing industry, including sponsoring various affordable housing developers and operators, and volunteering as board members for community development corporations, a religious-based non-profit housing developer, and local housing authority. The firm cares about affordable housing and understands the affordable housing industry and politics from first-hand experience in the legal, operational, and policy settings.
