The Daily Journal of Commerce has announced its Women of Vision Award winners for 2022. The awards honor women who are shaping the built environment in Oregon and Southwest Washington via technical skill, leadership, mentorship, community involvement, and promotion of industry diversity.

An in-person celebration will take place Oct. 26 at the Sentinel Hotel, 614 S.W. 11th Ave., in Portland, from 5 to 8 p.m. Emily Pilloton-Lam, founder and executive director of the nonprofit Girls Garage, will be the keynote speaker. There will also be a cocktail hour, a smirk photo booth, heavy hors d'oeuvres, and award presentations.

Individual tickets cost $125. Learn more and register by visiting <https://djcoregon.com/women-of-vision/>. Learn about sponsorship opportunities by contacting Bill Beyer at 503-802-7232 or bbeyer@djcOregon.com.

Two special awards will be given during this year's event. Melinda Daily of NWUCA will receive the Lois Cohen Lifetime Achievement Award and Laura Kerr of Stoel Rives LLP will receive the Jean Richardson Industry Impact Award.
